

Breakfast Run

Bronkhorstspuit Memorials

3rd August 2025

Mike Stafford, our resident History Buff, took a group of 11 of us to the memorials of the Bronkhorstspuit skirmish of 1880. The (larger) British memorial was across the road from the smaller Boer memorial. (Perhaps in proportion to each sides losses, The Brits lost 140, the Boers lost 7). At the British memorial, Mike gave us the interesting history behind the lead up to the fight, as well as details of the encounter itself. We then went on to "Soetdoring" restaurant (just down the road) for an excellent breakfast. They had 3 fireplaces to keep us warm, and they gave a plate of treats to Bea, the dog. Many thanks to Mike for arranging and leading a great morning out !!
